Please note:

The fees do not include any other part of the building, which can be hired separately

After your wedding, when it has been registered at the relevant register office, you will also pay the register office for your marriage certificate, as this is no longer issued by churches.

You can have your own recognised Christian Minister take a service. This doesn't change the Legal Wedding fee as our Minister acts as the Registrar for the building and is required to be in attendance. However, for a Wedding Blessing, the fee would be £500.

Both options presume up to 5 hour time period including set up and take down of any decorations, etc Additional time charged at £75 per hour.
